

Photo's

Well, only one old photograph for now.

This one was taken by Edmund Jupp in 1975.

You can see below there where two more doors, and all the windows on the ground floor are now different than present.

Do you have any old photo's, maps or documents of the pub, when it was either the Vaults Inn or the Redwing Inn?

Then we would like to hear from you. Village history is always important, and we would like to preserve as much as possible.
